

Alcohol Infused Whip Cream

I know this sounds crazy, but I couldn't make this story up if I tried. Believe it or not, there are now companies that are selling whip cream with alcohol in it. They come in a variety of flavors like Chocolate, Cherry, Orange, Caramel Pecan, Tropical Passion, Coconut and many more. Not only is it flavored, it has a high alcohol content at 15 percentage alcohol by volume or more (that's 30 proof whip cream).

The product was first introduced about two years ago and is quickly gaining popularity. A recent Dover High graduate who is attending a college in Rhode Island has reported seeing this at parties. While you can't drive to the local grocery store or even a state liquor store and buy it up in New Hampshire, that doesn't mean you won't find it at parties. The product is available for about $10 a can online and Web sites provide detailed instructions on how to make it at home.

In an effort to sell the product companies are advertising it in a youthful way. For example, they are using Facebook fan pages (check out CREAM 30 Proof) filled with youthful pictures and information about parties. You can see with the photo to the right how they promote parties like the one that was hosted in Minneapolis. The event featured free alcohol infused whip cream and body shots all night long.

To learn more about these new products check out the companies web sites below.

<http://www.whippedlightning.com/>

<http://givemecream.com/home>